

Kid-Friendly Fun: Why You Should Move to Orange County

Orange County is known for its tourist attractions and popularity as a vacation spot. However, if you're a family that enjoys having a range of fun activities, Orange County can also be a wonderful place to live. Not only is the area beautifully diverse with an ideal climate and every amenity imaginable, it's also a great place to raise a family with plenty of family-friendly, fun activities to choose from. If your family is looking for a new, exciting place to move, here are a few kid-centric reasons you should move to Orange County.

Discovery Cube

Discovery Cube is a children's science museum with bright colors, interesting exhibits, and of course, a giant cube. Its exhibits focus on both educating kids and entertaining them with special featured topics like cartoons or movies. These special exhibits are on display for a limited time before changing into something new and equally exciting, which keeps visitors coming back time and time again. With the zany appearance of the museum, adults are bound to enjoy themselves as well.

Adventure City

Adventure City is a family-friendly amusement park that runs cheaper than most amusement park visits. They have traditional fun and games such as roller coasters, a train, a rock climbing wall, a carousel, and even a petting zoo. It's a great place to go to celebrate the beginning of summer break and is fun for adults as well as kids.

Stricklands in Irvine

Stricklands is a historic company first started in 1936 that has become famous for its freshly made ice cream. One of the best benefits of living in Orange County is the climate, meaning every season is ice cream season. Stricklands offers new specialty flavors each day, ensuring their guests never grow bored of their flavor selection. Ice cream is one of the best ways to top off a fun day, whether you've spent a few hours at the beach, out hiking, or simply enjoying all that Orange County has to offer.

Irvine Regional Park

Irvine Regional Park is home to anything and everything kid-friendly. It boasts train rides, paddle boats, pony rides, hiking, and even houses the Orange County Zoo. An entire day from morning to night could easily be spent enjoying all that this enormous park has to offer. The activities are family-friendly rather than just kid-friendly, allowing adults to look forward to visiting the park.

Camelot Golfland

If your family is into mini golf, Camelot Golfland is the place to go. They have several expansive mini golf courses as well as an arcade castle. The massive structure houses a huge video game arcade and food court. The fare consists of the standard pizza and soda that you'd expect from an arcade. Though the video games may be a little less entertaining for the adults in the group, mini golf knows no age and can be a great time for everyone in the family.

Orange County offers an endless supply of entertainment for children and adults alike. It may be known for its amusement parks but keep in mind that Orange County also has a lot of natural beauty too. If you opt to move your family to Orange County, your kids will have the best of both worlds; sprawling city life with access to the great outdoors.

Image via Pixabay by anomalnaya

November 2016

By Catherine Workman, part of a great team at WellnessVoyager that aims to spread love for travel.

www.WellnessVoyager.com